

Online Energy Information System
Online Profile Request Form

The Internet-based Energy Information System from Wisconsin Public Service was designed for our customers with Interruptible Electric Service or Gas Transportation Service - or those participating in one of our market-based electric programs. Using this system, you can access electric and natural gas information that's critical to managing your energy supply and your operations. The online Energy Information System is located at:

http://www.wisconsinpublicservice.com/business/eis.aspx
